

Operational Excellence Assistant

Hoyer, Hadsten

Do you want to be part of an international company in growth? Are you dedicated and eager to deliver value to customers in the electric motor business? Then Hoyer is the right place for you!

Hoyer is currently in a stage of rapid growth that demands strong focus on optimization in order to deliver and enhance value to our customers.

As Operational Excellence Assistant you will join a newly established department engaged in driving performance improvement across the complete supply chain of the company.

Together with the manager you will work to coordinate the existing project portfolio involving complex operational problems which have a big impact on the overall business. Simultaneously you will assist to identify future improvement opportunities related to cost, lead time and risk reduction. The projects are interdisciplinary and involve all departments in Hoyer Group as well as external stakeholders in Europe and Asia. Tasks may include the following:

- Identifying key information and gathering data from ERP as well as other sources
- Performing data analysis, creating and updating status reports
- Identifying rebuilding opportunities between different product variants, by reviewing technical specification and demand data
- Creating standard operating procedures
- Cooperating with and supporting a wide range of teams from sales, warehouse, sourcing, etc. on project implementation
- Tracking and monitoring of selected KPI

Qualifications

- Logistics / Supply Chain Management education or experience as a part of Operations / Supply Chain department
- Strong analytical skills and ability to make analysis with near management ready quality
- Very good MS Excel user
- Fluent in spoken and written English
- Previous experience with OpEx, Lean Six Sigma or other process improvement initiatives in trade or manufacturing setting is an added strength but not a requirement

You are reliable, trustworthy and keeping agreements and deadlines is essential to you. You pay attention that information and data you share is of highest quality and is an honest representation of reality. You thrive in a dynamic environment and embrace change with a positive attitude. You have a structured approach, and put emphasis on facts as a base for discussion and decision making. Lastly you have an interest in gaining considerable product knowledge in a new industry.

You will be part of an international company where swift decision processes and an informal everyday atmosphere have fostered an agile and dynamic performance culture which has achieved significant results over the years. You will gain insight into a global electric motor and power transmission industries. You will grow and expand your expertise in domains of Operational Excellence and Supply Chain Management and join a team where you can make a difference.
